HILLARY'S EMAIL INVESTIGATION

DID HILLARY BRIBE THE FBI?

BRINGING REAL MUSCLE TO BEAR AGAINST SYRIASummary:

Syria at present has a hammerlock on US interests both in Lebanon and in the Gulf -- through closure of Iraq's pipeline thereby threatening Iraqi internationalization of the war. The US should consider sharply escalating the pressures against Assad through covertly orchestrating simultaneous military threats against Syria from three border states hostile to Syria: Iraq, Israel and Turkey. Iraq, perceived to be increasingly desperate in the Gulf War, would undertake limited military (air) operations against Syria with the sole goal of opening the pipeline. Although opening war on a second front against Syria poses considerable risk to Iraq, Syria would also face a two-front war since it is already heavily engaged in the Bekaa, on the Golan and in maintaining control over a hostile and restive population inside Syria.

LAPEER — A Flushing doctor, with offices in Lapeer, Davison and Flint, remains held after being arrested Tuesday on his way to work on charges that he was responsible for the deaths of three men in 2012.

Dr. Hatem Ataya, 47, is due back in court at 9 a.m. Friday in front of 71A District Court on cause hearing.

Lapeer Police Dept. Officer A.J. Wetzel and a DEA agent took Ataya into custody as he was to work at a gas station on M-15 near Lapeer Road in Davison. Det/Sgt. Craig Gorm

Five individuals who have donated to Democratic politicians pleaded guilty to a scheme that drained Medicare out of $33 million dollars.

Two physicians and three owners of hospice and home care companies based out of Detroit, Mich., were charged on June 18, 2015 as part of the largest Medicare fraud case in history for submitting fraudulent claims for home health care and hospice services that were either not provided or

Deputy Director under review for political conflict in Clinton email case also in position to oversee inquiry into Trump campaign associates

WASHINGTON – Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Chuck Grassley today called on the FBI to detail the involvement in the probe of alleged collusion between Trump campaign associates and Russia of one senior official who is under investigation for political conflicts in the Clinton email matter. Deputy Director Andrew McCabe helped oversee the FBI's investigation in the Clinton case even though his wife received nearly $700,000 from close Clinton associates during her campaign for Virginia state senate. As the FBI's second-in-command, McCabe could have significant influence over the ongoing investigation into allegations of collusion between Trump campaign associates and Russia as well.

Building Haiti's Economy, One Mango at a Time

By PAUL COLLIER and JEAN-LOUIS WARNHOLZ JAN. 28, 2010

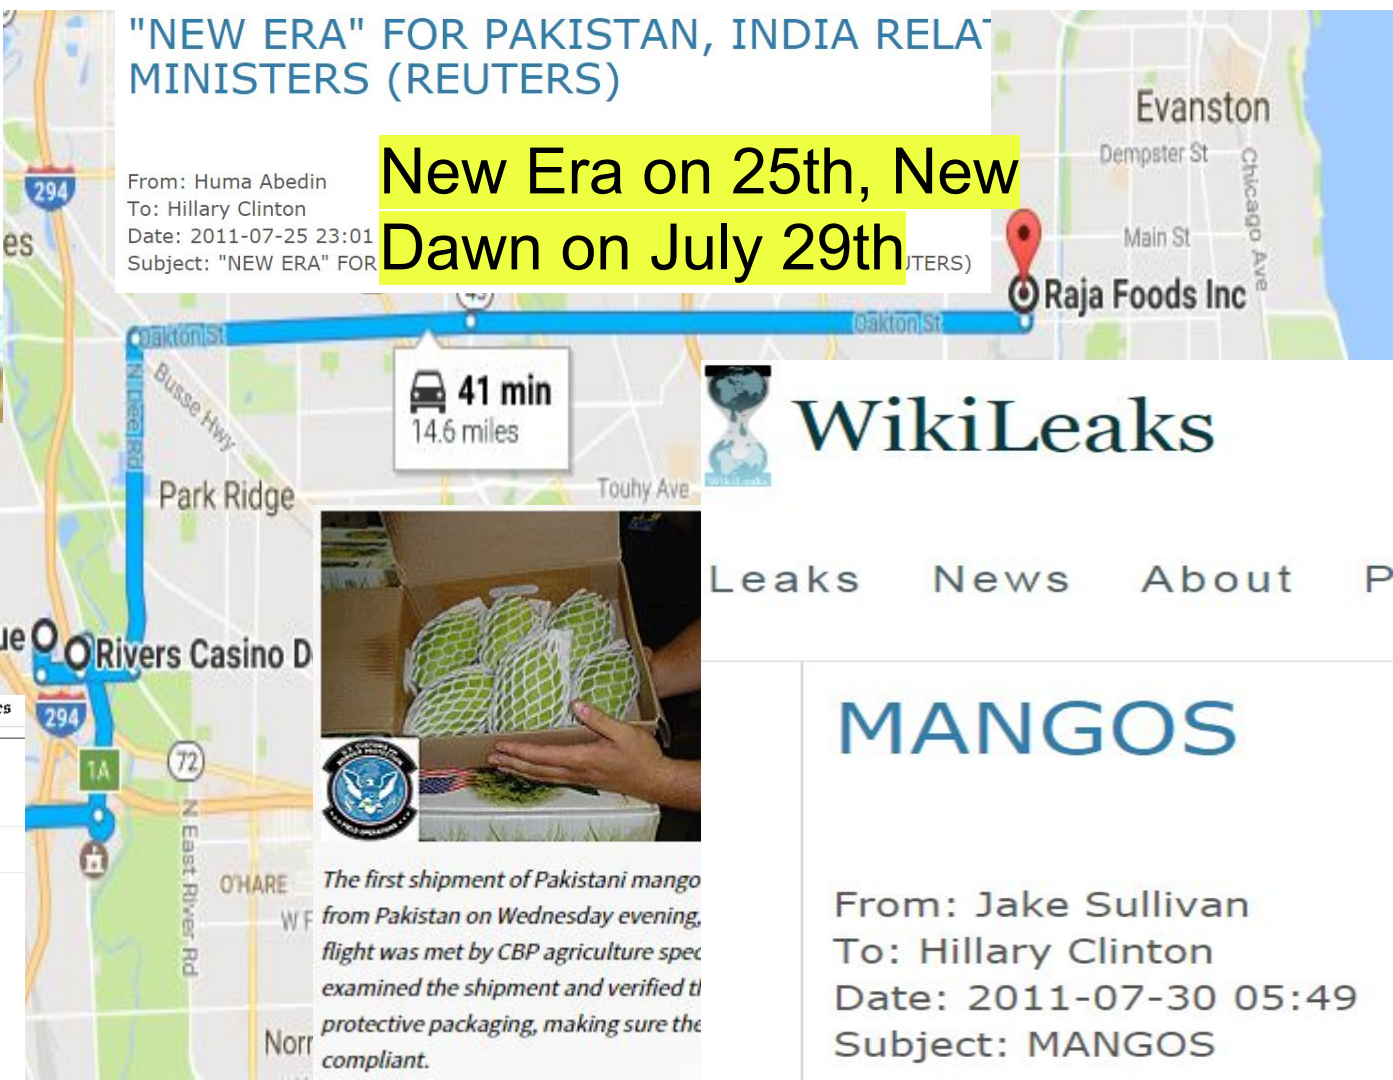

IN an astonishing outpouring of generosity, nearly half of American households have donated money to help Haiti recover from the recent earthquake. The United States government and other governments around the world, for their part, have sent thousands of relief workers and have pledged $1 billion so far. But Haitians need something more fundamental than relief from the present situation; they need jobs that they can count on for years ahead. For this, the private business sector is essential. Luckily, business leaders are meeting now in Davos, Switzerland, and Haiti is prominent on their agenda.

CHICAGO -- A contract employee suspected of setting a fire at a suburban Chicago air traffic control center brought two of the nation's busiest airports to a halt for hours Friday, sending delays and cancellations rippling through the air-travel network from coast to coast.

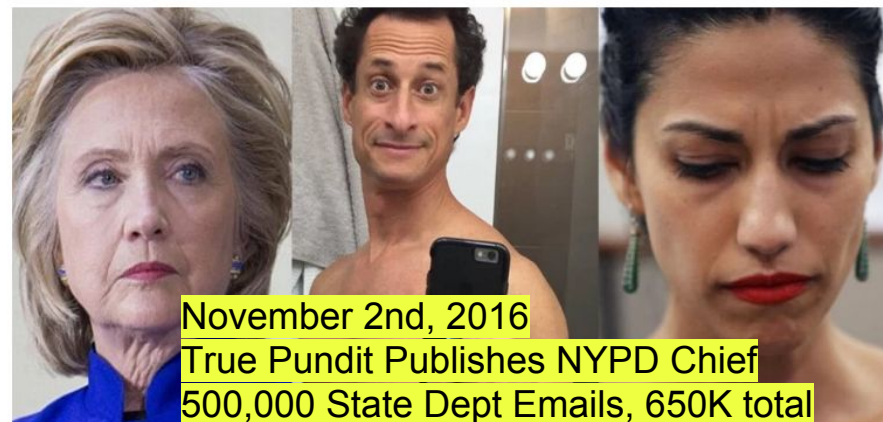

Authorities quickly ruled out any ties to terrorism, but the ground stoppage at O'Hare and Midway airports immediately raised questions about whether the Federal Aviation Administration has adequate backup plans to keep planes moving when a single facility has to shut down.

By evening, more than 2,000 flights in and out of Chicago alone had been canceled, and more

New York Police Department detectives and prosecutors working an alleged underage sexting case against former Congressman Anthony Weiner have turned over a newly-found laptop he shared with wife Huma Abedin to the FBI with enough evidence "to put Hillary (Clinton) and her crew away for life," NYPD sources told True Pundit.

NYPD sources said Clinton's "crew" also included several unnamed yet implicated members of Congress in addition to her aides and advisers.

The NYPD seized the computer from Weiner during Clinton's trip to the Bahamas. The laptop was part of a larger investigation into Clinton's alleged affair with Weiner.

But new revelations on the contents of that laptop, which included text messages, emails, and other documents, have led to a renewed interest in the case.

November 1, 2015

Richmond, Va. – At its meeting today, the OPTN Board of Directors declared Life Alliance Organ Recovery Agency (LAORA) to be a "Member Not in Good Standing." LAORA, based in Miami, is an organ procurement organization providing services to six counties in South Florida.

As established in the OPTN Bylaws, the Member Not in Good Standing designation is intended to provide public notice of an OPTN member that has committed a violation of OPTN policies or bylaws or has demonstrated a serious lapse in patient safety or quality of care. Learn more.

The Fleischaker Family: Staying Active with HCM

H

Study: The Value Of Voting And Why We Do It

"With HCM, it isn't easy finding the balance between what you can do, and what might send you back," says Pam Fleischaker. "You have to keep on going and use the energy you have but you've always got to be careful not to overdo it."

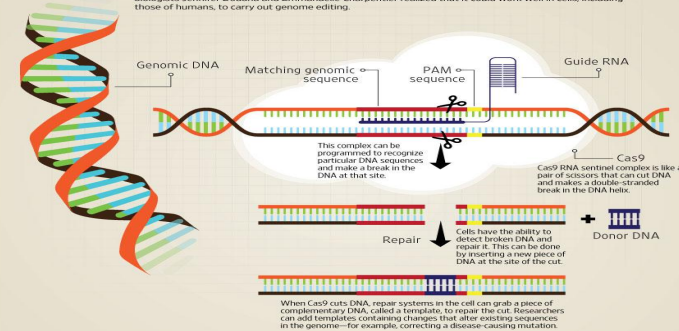

With this philosophy, Pam has succeeded in balancing a demanding career and raising a family, and her son Joey, who also carries the HCM gene, has blazed a trail in the world of sports.

science, some experts say; it's that researchers don't agree on the answer to a more fundamental question: Why do people vote at all?

Well, according to Ms. Pam Fleischaker, 62, of Oklahoma City, who was in New York recovering from a heart transplant:

HOW CRISPR WORKS

CRISPR-Cas9, abbreviated from clustered regularly-interspaced short palindromic repeats, is a hybrid of protein and ribonucleic acid (RNA) which works as an efficient hunt-and-cut system in bacteria. Molecular biologists Jennifer Doudna and Emmanuelle Charpentier realized that it could work well in cells, including those of humans, to carry out genome editing.

When viruses infect a cell, they inject their DNA. In bacterium, the CRISPR system allows that DNA to be plucked out of the virus and inserted in little bits into the chromosome of the bacterium. These integrated bits of viral DNA get inserted at a site in the bacteria.

CRISPR allows cells to record over time the viruses that they have been exposed to, so that cells are protected from those viruses.

A controversial state-owned Moroccan mining firm that has poured money into Hillary Clinton's foundation has received more than $92 million in U.S. taxpayer support, public records show.

The firm, OCP, has been accused of violating U.S. and international law. According to a Friday report in Politico, it has also donated $6 million to the Bill, Hillary, and Chelsea Clinton Foundation.

In September, the U.S. Export-Import Bank guaranteed a $92 million Citibank loan to OCP to purchase equipment from two American manufacturers.

That federal support came despite controversial practices by the state-owned company, detailed by Politico in a story on the Clinton Foundation's OCP-sponsored event in Marrakech.

GREEN COVE SPRINGS -- Authorities began the difficult process Tuesday, Dec. 27, of trying to determine why a helicopter carrying two members of a Mayo Clinic transplant team and the pilot crashed in southwestern Clay County early Monday, killing all on board.

The helicopter, operated by SK Jets of St. Augustine, was on its way to Gainesville to pick up a donor heart when it went down, killing Mayo Clinic cardiac surgeon Louis Bonilla and procurement technician David Hines, Mayo Hospi-

"Our deepest sympathies go out to the families of those involved in this tragedy. This is a great loss to the Mayo Clinic family and the transplant community," said William Rupp, M.D., vice president of Mayo Clinic and chief executive officer of Mayo Clinic in Florida.

David Hines

Jose Obregon, a National Transportation Safety Board investigator from Miami, said the helicopter went down about 5:35 a.m. The crash site was found about seven hours later when searchers located the crash site southwest of Green Cove Springs in a heavily wooded area near Hogarth Road.

The remote area has hampered recovery efforts, according to the Clay County Sheriff's Office.

The crash started a fire that destroyed much of the debris, Obregon said.

"About 10 to 15 percent (of the helicopter) still remains," he said. "We don't have very much to work with."

Obregon also said there were no early indications as to what may have caused the crash, no distress signal or call from the aircraft before the crash and radar data appeared normal. He said a preliminary report will be completed after the investigation in five to seven days and posted on the NTSB website.

SK Jets' Smith said it would cooperate fully with the investigation. "Our prayers and condolences go out to all the family members and other per-

He also said as part of the recovery process, the wreckage was scheduled to be transported on Thursday to a salvage facility in Georgia for a more detailed examination.

He said they flew VFR but navigated GPS direct. When conducting the flight between Mayo and Shands, they typically used the heliport identifiers to go direct; they did not enter additional enroute waypoints in the GPS or any user defined landmarks or waypoints.

Treacherous trek

Haitians have forged a dangerous and clandestine new path to get the United States. They leave Brazil — which opened its doors after the 2010 earthquake — and travel more than 7,100 miles through South and Central America, crossing 11 countries by bus, boat, car and on foot in a perilous trip that can take two to four months. Nearly 5,000 Haitians have taken this route since October 2015. The goal: the U.S.-Mexico border, and from there, South Florida.

It emerged last year that Blumenthal, a former journalist and Bill Clinton White House aide, emailed Clinton touting projects undertaken by a U.S.-based contractor called Osprey Global Solutions. The company sought to work with Libya's transition government after dictator Moammar Gaddafi's fall to provide private security services and build floating hospitals in the war-torn country.

PREDATORS Peacekeepers Accused Of Raping, Killing Kids

The alleged sexual abuse of kids by French soldiers is just the latest in a string of terrible violence that Central Africa's peacekeepers have been accused of perpetrating.

NINA STROCHLIC 05.01.15 1:30 PM ET

A forgotten African country has spent more than two years in the throes of near-genocide, and now the foreign peacekeeping troops stationed there are being accused of acts as horrific as those they were sent to stop.

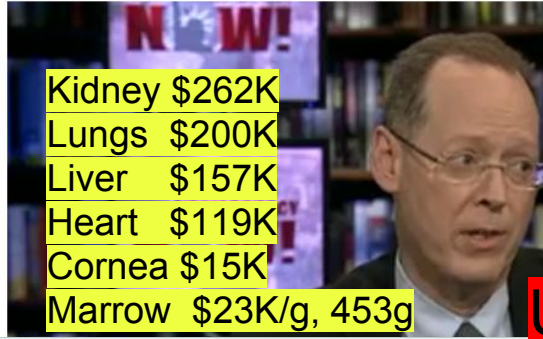

Last summer, a disenfranchised senior employee with the United Nations leaked confidential documents to the French government that showed French soldiers may have sexually abused refugee children in the Central African

Dr. Eric Braverman

Neurosurgeon Dr. Eric Braverman — whose clients include former Gov. George W. Bush and Suzanne Somers — estimates he's spent over $4.5 million and is bruising divorce battle with his third wife, Darya.

And now he could even lose his underpants.

Huge fees incurred during the divorce and child-custody war that's raged in court since 2011 have gone to attorneys, forensic psychologists, expert witnesses and supervised visitation costs, according to documents.

Meantime, Braverman and Darya are still battling.

A prominent Manhattan neurosurgeon allegedly tried to bribe a court clerk after he failed in handing trying to steal confidential documents related to his contentions in a $100 million dollar divorce, it was revealed Thursday.

The latest revelation came out after Dr. Eric Braverman's misdemeanor bench warrant for perjury and purloin two one-page psych reports from court clerk Kathy Quammie testified that he not be permitted visitation with his children.

Noyau - Core, Heart

Noyau

A steep hike, or a very bumpy 4WD ride, leads to the mountain village of Noyau. Strong cheerful Haitian people also haul in gear and supplies, usually on top of their heads. Views of the mountains and streams are spectacular. When you arrive at the small concrete and stone block church, Noyau's town center of two buildings, you are greeted by a gaggle of friendly, curious children and welcoming adults. If you go for a walk you'll be going up and down hillsides seeing small huts and homes with small plots of land under cultivation.

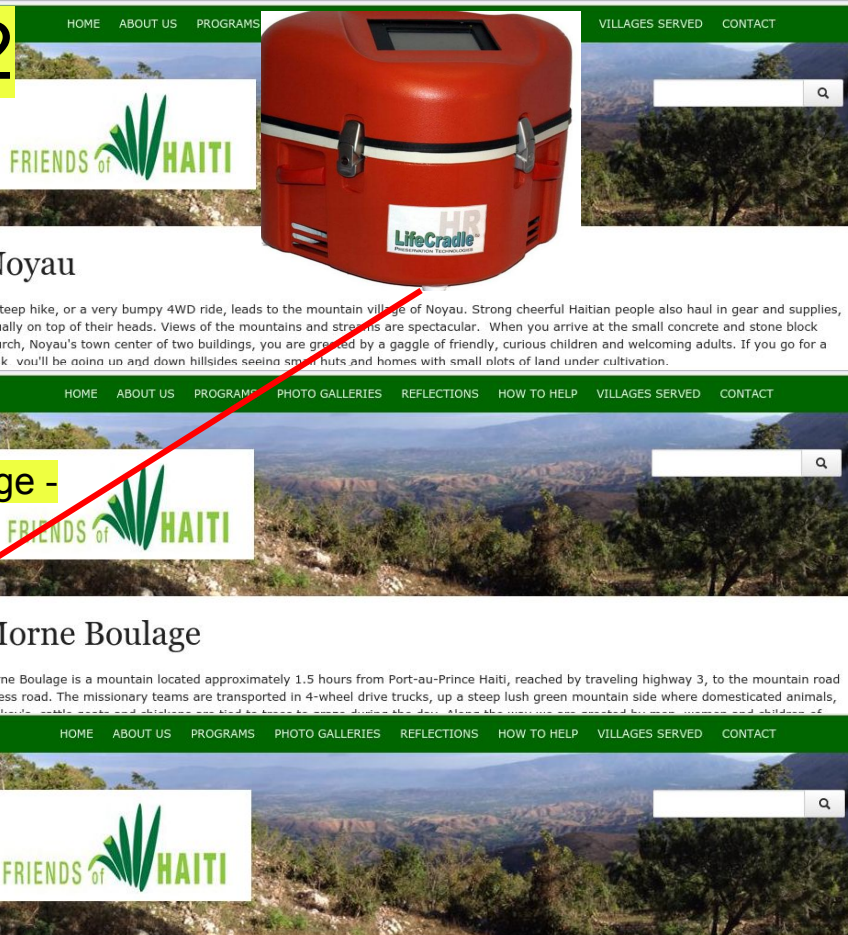

Morne Boulage - Sad Face

Morne Boulage

Morne Boulage is a mountain located approximately 1.5 hours from Port-au-Prince Haiti, reached by traveling highway 3, to the mountain road access road. The missionary teams are transported in 4-wheel drive trucks, up a steep lush green mountain side where domesticated animals, dogs, cats, and children are tied to transport gear during the drive. Along the way, we see a lot of human, women and children.

Montalais

Montalais is the most remote mountain village in which we work. It is a 9 mile hike from the main road and sits upon a high, red mountain. Due to its location, the area is lush. It rains almost every day. The days are warm but the nights are very pleasant and cool; excellent sleeping weather. The views are spectacular!

The Clinton Foundation invited the prime minister of Kosovo to the 2011 Clinton Global Initiative annual meeting knowing full well that he had been implicated in a human organ trafficking scheme as leader of the Kosovo Liberation Army in the late 1990s.

"What are USG views on WJC inviting former Kosovo PM [Hashim] Thaci and the current PM to CGI?" Clinton Foundation foreign policy adviser Amitabh Desai wrote in an Aug. 17, 2011 email to several top Hillary Clinton State Department officials.

"Is Thaci still embroiled in organ harvesting issues and is that of consequence?" Desai asked in the email, which the State Department recently released to Citizens United.

Desai clarified in a follow-up email that Thaci was actually prime minister at the time. He now serves as president of Kosovo.

Two terrabyte drive with Clinton White House emails missing, presumed stolen from National Archives foia.state.gov/Search/Results ...

Three Classified Budget Programs
Authored By Lael Brainard 2013

Jim, Blake tells me that NARA went ahead and notified Bruce Lindsay, so you should probably give Cheryl a call ASAP. No additional news since what is described in Blake's message below.

Greg / Dan:

The National Archives alerted me that they cannot account for a 2 terabyte hard drive containing electronic records from the Clinton administration. They last can account for the drive on January 30; they discovered it was missing on March 24 (NARA leadership found out later). They believe it was stolen. NARA has an identical copy of the drive, which it is analyzing.

Two terabytes is a very very large amount of data; the drive may contain a wide range of memos, emails, and other electronic documents from the Clinton White House. All the material is unclassified, except for three documents which Bill Leary has examined and does not believe present any significant risk. Based on its analysis, NARA believes the drive contains other sensitive material, including:

--There is at least a 50% likelihood that the personal information (including DOB and SSN) of all individuals placed through the Clinton Presidential Personnel Office was on the lost hard drive.

--There is a 90% likelihood that the personal information (including DOB and SSN) of all Clinton WH staff was on the lost hard drive. There is a 100% chance that some of it was on the lost hard drive.

--The three classified documents were authored by Lael Brainard, currently a top nominee for Treasury. Much of her work is likely on the drive. They are almost certainly records from many other White House officials.

'Out of control': DEA chief grilled over agents' sex parties dating back to 2001

The Drug Enforcement Agency chief is taking fire from Congress over internal reports stating that agents have engaged in sex parties on the government's dime since 2001. One lawmaker also called for the chief to resign.

Documents released Tuesday by the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform show reports of misconduct dating back to 2001. One report indicates that prostitutes at a 2003 retirement party for a high-ranking DEA official were paid out of the operational budget for the DEA field office in Colombia. One witness told the government inspectors that he contracted prostitutes for at least 15 DEA sex parties.

The United States Army launched an investigation on Friday into the mysterious death of a soldier who was found unresponsive at his post on the Fort Hood base – the latest in a string of nearly a dozen deaths of soldiers serving in the massive Texas encampment.

Sgt. Alex Mathew Dean Taylor, 23, a soldier assigned to the 15th Military Intelligence Battalion, was found dead while on duty, according to Stars and Stripes.

Taylor had enlisted as an aviation operations specialist.

The army released no information about the circumstances of Taylor's death.

'At this point in the investigative process we do not suspect foul play, but have not completely ruled it out while we conduct a complete and thorough death investigation,' a spokesperson for the Army Criminal Investigations Command said.

Taylor was a decorated soldier, having earned numerous commendations during his service, including the Army Commendation Medal, Army Good Conduct Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, the Aviation Badge, and the Air Assault Badge.

Virginia Governor Terry McAuliffe is widely considered the best friend of Bill and Hillary Clinton, and was co-chair of one of Bill's presidential campaigns and the chair of Hillary's 2008 presidential campaign. In March 2016, McAuliffe says, "We're best friends, I've been family friends with the Clinton's for thirty years. It's a great relationship, we vacationed together for years, we're just very personal friends..." (The Valley's Music Place, 3/31/2016)

On March 7, 2015, McAuliffe and other state Democratic Party leaders meet with Dr. Jill McCabe and persuade her to run for a state senator seat in Virginia. McAuliffe Sets Up Bribe Funnel -r political office. Spouse Ruse - $675,000 as the FBI's Washington,

Emails May Be a Key to Addressing 'Pay-to-Play' Whispers at Clinton Foundation

March 8, 2015, Ron Fournier

The attached article from Ron Fournier at The National Journal addresses an issue we have also found of some concern. There sure is a lot of money which has flowed into Clinton Foundation coffers from large corporations and foreign governments over the past few years. Some governments even gave money to the foundation while Ms. Clinton was still Secretary of State.

(From The National Journal)

"Follow the money." That apocryphal phrase, attributed to Watergate whistle-blower "Deep Throat," explains why the biggest threat to Hillary Rodham Clinton's presidential dreams is not her emails. It's her family foundation. That's where the money is: corporate money, foreign money, gobs of money sloshing around a vanity charity that could be renamed "Clinton Conflicts of Interest Foundation."

What about the emails? Hillary Clinton's secret communications cache is a bombshell deserving of full disclosure because of her assault on government transparency and electronic security. But its greatest relevancy is what the emails might reveal about any nexus between Clinton's work at State and donations to the Bill, Hillary & Chelsea Clinton Foundation from U.S. corporations and foreign nations.

Under fire, Bill Clinton said his namesake charity has "done a lot more good than harm"—hardly a ringing endorsement. One of his longest-serving advisers, a person who had worked directly for the foundation, told me the "longtime whispers of pay-to-play are going to become shouts."

Syrian authorities have handed over a batch of documents with the evidence of a rebel use of banned chemical agent against civilians near Aleppo to the international chemical watchdog. Samples from the shell containing mustard gas are to be delivered to The Hague.

The documents were handed over in Damascus to the mission of the Technical Secretariat of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).

Crashed plane in flames on Malta runway

A small plane heading towards Libya's coast to monitor migrant trafficking routes for the French government has crashed soon after taking off from Malta's main airport, killing all five people on board.

The twin-prop Fairchild Metroliner banked right and hit the ground, causing a huge fireball, at about 7.20am local time (0520 GMT), video captured by a dashboard camera showed.

Malta's government said all five victims were French and that the flight was part of a French customs surveillance operation tracing routes of illicit trafficking, of humans and drugs, leaving Libya's lawless coasts.

Libya is the main point of departure for tens of thousands of migrants who have been paying smugglers to bring them toward Europe by boat.

Early media reports said the plane had been chartered by the European Union's border control agency, Frontex.

Libya Rebels Get Formal Backing, and $30 Billion

By SEBNEM ARSU and STEVEN ERLANGER JULY 15, 2011

ISTANBUL — The United States formally recognized the rebel leadership in Libya as the country's legitimate government on Friday, allowing the rebel government access to $30 billion in Libyan assets held in the United States. It is not yet clear how and when the money would be released.

Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton said at an international gathering held to discuss the Libyan conflict that Col. Muammar el-Qaddafi's government no longer had any legitimacy, and that the United States would join more than 30 countries in extending diplomatic recognition to the main opposition group, known as the Transitional National Council.

"We recognize the sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of Libya," Mrs. Clinton said. "We support its commitment to a peaceful resolution to the conflict." She said the United States would join more than 30 countries in extending diplomatic recognition to the main opposition group, known as the Transitional National Council.

American officials explained Saturday that the vast bulk of the roughly $30 billion of Libyan assets frozen by the United States was not liquid, since much of it consists of property. About $3.5 billion of the sum is liquid, the officials said, and could be provided to the Transitional National Council over time.

2) You note that a look at the CFR seating plan shows that all the envoys - from Holbrooke to Mitchell to Ross - will be arrayed in front of her, which in your own clever way you can say certainly not a coincidence and meant to convey something

Hillary Clinton's "Smart Power" Breaks Through

MARC AMBINDER

JUL 15, 2009

POLITICS

When you think of President Obama's foreign policy, think of Secretary of State Hillary Clinton. That's the message behind muscular speech that Clinton is set to deliver today to the Council on Foreign Relations. The staging gives a clue to its purpose: seated in front of Clinton, subordinate to Clinton, in the first row, will be three potentially rival power centers: envoys Richard Holbrooke and George Mitchell, and National Security Council senior director Dennis Ross.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department urged a U.S. judge late Friday to keep secret many of the court records in the now-abandoned lawsuit over leaks in the investigation that led to the resignation of former CIA director David Petraeus.

The files include transcripts of sworn interviews with senior Obama administration officials about the sex scandal and its fallout.

Government lawyers said unsealing some of the files "would publicize details of a criminal investigation that concluded without charges being filed." Other records contain or describe confidential statements provided to FBI agents, documents sealed by another court or material that should be kept secret to protect the privacy interests of people connected to the case.

U.S. District Judge Amy Berman Jackson had given the government until midnight to file its objections to unsealing the records. She had noted a 2001 appeals court decision citing "a strong presumption in favor of public access to judicial proceedings."

Petraeus - Reines Emails - Smoking Guns to Bribes

The case included FBI files and deposition testimony from or about such senior U.S. government officials as Petraeus; Defense Secretary Ashton Carter; former Defense Secretary Leon Panetta; Homeland Security Secretary Jeh Johnson; Marine Gen. John R. Allen, then-commander of U.S. forces in Afghanistan; former Pentagon chief of staff Jeremy Bash; former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton aide Philippe Reines; and former Pentagon and CIA press secretary George Little.

Jill Kelley of Tampa, Florida, along with her husband, Scott, had sued the government in June 2013 in Washington, alleging that officials violated the U.S. Privacy Act by disclosing information about them during the FBI's investigation of Petraeus. The former CIA director pleaded guilty to one misdemeanor charge of mishandling classified information relating to documents he had provided to his attorney in an affair. Kelley had complained to the FBI in 2012 about harassing emails
